

David Mallory, P.E.
California Air Resources Board
Air Quality Measures Branch

David Mallory, P.E. has worked for the California Air Resources Board for 14 years. He has been the Manager of the Measures Development Section in the Stationary Source Division for approximately six and a half years. He has led the development of several Consumer Products Surveys and Consumer Products Regulation Amendments which included the adoption of a number of new and modified VOC limits and other regulatory provisions. David holds a Bachelors Degree of Civil Engineering from California State University, Sacramento and is licensed as a Professional Civil Engineer in California.