Re: Green Chemistry Initiative Comments

Dear Director Movassaghi –

I am the co-founder of Method Products, Inc. Method is the leading innovator of eco-friendly home and personal care products. We have a strong commitment to the environment both in the products we make and in the processes used to make those products. Last year, I worked with Maureen Gorsen to support the Green Chemistry Initiative as it made its way through the legislative process.

Method supports the California Green Chemistry Initiative, and particularly we endorse the business – NGO working group’s draft proposal for development of a mechanism allowing for greener chemistry in consumer goods. The working group, chaired by Mark Rossi, has incorporated feedback from a range of companies, NGOs and from the academic world and has developed a draft for a registry of hazardous chemistry and mechanisms to require switches to safer alternatives. This draft will be presented to you on July 14th by representatives of the working group.

In addition, as a business committed to ingredient transparency, we advocate mandatory disclosure of ingredient information by suppliers to manufacturers in the form of a producer right-to-know rule, as well as the public disclosure of the chemicals used in formulated consumer goods such as cleaning products.

I look forward to working together and I encourage you to reach out to me directly if can be of assistance to you.

Very truly yours,
