Work Notice & Community Survey

Former Talley Brothers Facility 2007 Laura Avenue Huntington Park, California

Environmental Investigation - Starting September 6, 2011

The Department of Toxic Substances Control (DTSC) will oversee an environmental investigation including soil and groundwater at the former Talley Brothers facility located at 2007 Laura Avenue in Huntington Park. This 0.5 acre property was a used-oil recycling facility from the 1930s until 1994.

The investigation is being done to determine if prior activities on the site caused soil or groundwater contamination. Work will include drilling into the soil, installing monitoring wells, and collecting and analyzing soil and groundwater samples. Lane closures on Laura Avenue may be necessary as some sampling will occur in the public street. The following chemicals were found during previous investigations at the site:

- Total Petroleum Hydrocarbons (TPHs)
- Volatile Organic Compounds (VOCs); and Semi-Volatile Organic Compounds (SVOCs)
- Polycyclic Aromatic Hydrocarbons (PAHs)
- Polychlorinated Biphenyls (PCBs)

These chemicals are commonly found on industrial properties as they are used during the manufacturing process. More information on these chemicals can be found at www.atsdr.cdc.gov.

Work hours are 7:00 am to 5:00 pm. All work will be done by DTSC's licensed contractor.

Enclosed with this work notice is a community survey. Please complete the form and return it in the enclosed postage-paid return envelope. This survey will be used to identify community concerns regarding the environmental conditions of this site and develop future outreach activities. Please return the survey by September 16, 2011.
