Clearly you think protecting your power is more important than the people of ssfl, exide, ...lets look at BKK. When these revelations are discovered, uncovered about your agency, you should be concerned, not defensive. It's way too late for that.

I noticed Mr Chandler's comments about BKK Landfill. No public outreach at all in that area. Let sleeping dogs lie? Or lie? When he talks about handing over the keys to this issue, you need to look at the purpose of your agency, because dtsc is what lies between these toxic constituents pf concern, and the people and environment they harm. The 'goal' of protect and prevent doesn't seem to be on your list of priorities at all. From you, I only heard excuses and "trust us." We cannot.

Why aren't there public meetings? To avoid upset people? Theyshould be upset -- they are directly in harms way and no one is protecting them.

When was the last meeting with the people of west covina?

Billions of gallons of VOCs and people in harms way unbeknownst to them...we need to shine a light on the injustice and failure to protect those people. Based on what I see during drilling, I find it shocking that the local communities seem to be totally unaware of what they are next to and according to YOUR own people, the neighbors can hear the truck drivers talking to their wives on the phone...so within earshot, and the public process is non-existent.

We don't want to be your Flint, in fact we are tired of being your Flint.

Best wishes,
